We believe the entire world deserves access to its greatest minds. Our mission is to reach those without this opportunity.
Project Syndicate was established in the early 1990s as an initiative to assist newly independent media in post-communist Central and Eastern Europe. Expansion to Western Europe, Africa, Asia, and the Americas quickly followed, as publishers worldwide sought access to the views of leading thinkers and policymakers on the day’s most important global issues.

Our rapid growth has been guided by rigorous editorial independence and a simple credo: all people – wherever they live, whatever their income, and whatever language they use – deserve equal access to the highest-quality analysis, from a broad range of perspectives, of the events, trends, and forces shaping their lives.

Project Syndicate thus provides an invaluable global public good: ensuring that news media in all countries, regardless of their financial and journalistic resources – and often in challenging political environments – can offer readers original, engaging, and thought-provoking commentary by the world’s leading innovators in economics, politics, health, technology, and culture.

Indeed, without Project Syndicate, most of the publications we serve would be unable to secure comparable content. Project Syndicate’s unparalleled range and caliber of opinion, our ability to provide analysis of breaking news, and our commitment to focusing minds on complex topics driving the news – development, the Middle East, Africa, and sustainability, among many others – now benefits some 300 million readers of more than 500 media outlets in 156 countries.
Project Syndicate constitutes the only truly global forum for informed, high-level debate of the world’s most urgent policy challenges. Indeed, Project Syndicate’s member newspapers include the world’s most influential agenda-setters in both the developed and emerging world.

Project Syndicate works with nearly 500 publishers in 156 countries, including:

Americas
- MarketWatch
- LA PRESSE
- THE GLOBE AND MAIL®
- Clarín
- REFORMA
- ESTADÃO

Europe
- The Guardian
- Handelsblatt
- EL PAÍS
- Le Monde
- FINANZ-WIRTSCHAFT
- DAGENS NYHETER

Africa
- DAILY NATION
- DAILY TRUST
- Mail & Guardian
- THE REPORTER
- الصباح
- THE CITIZEN

Middle East
- GULF NEWS
- Al Bayan
- arab news
- ALJAZEERA
- THE DAILY STAR

Asia
- CAIJING.COM.CN
- NIKKEI
- THE AUSTRALIAN®
- South China Morning Post
- THE GOLDSMITH
- hindustan times
Diverse, Sought-after Contributors

Project Syndicate’s contributors are prominent politicians, policymakers, scholars, business leaders, and civic activists from six continents. They include Nobel laureates, heads of state, grassroots campaigners, and academic specialists in fields ranging from economics and politics to the natural sciences and cultural studies—all of whom bring to bear the credibility, diversity, and high-quality analysis that readers demand.

Our ability to reach readers worldwide is unparalleled. In 2017, Project Syndicate commentaries were published a total of 24,062 times around the world. Only Project Syndicate can consistently tap the most insightful contributors—from Africa, Asia, Europe, and the Americas—to provide trenchant, authoritative analysis of the issues commanding global attention and promote viable solutions to the world’s urgent problems. As a result, we often play an agenda-shaping role for other news organizations.

International Economics

Kenneth Rogoff
Kenneth Rogoff, Professor of Economics and Public Policy at Harvard University and recipient of the 2011 Deutsche Bank Prize in Financial Economics, was the chief economist of the International Monetary Fund from 2001 to 2003. The co-author of This Time Is Different: Eight Centuries of Financial Folly, his new book, The Curse of Cash, was released in August 2016.

Raghuram Rajan
Raghuram Rajan is a former governor of the Reserve Bank of India.

Christine Lagarde
Christine Lagarde is Managing Director of the International Monetary Fund. She previously served as France’s finance minister from 2007-2011, and in 2009 was named by the Financial Times as the best finance minister in the eurozone.

Nouriel Roubini
Nouriel Roubini, a professor at NYU’s Stern School of Business and Chairman of Roubini Macro Associates, was Senior Economist for International Affairs in the White House’s Council of Economic Advisers during the Clinton Administration. He has worked for the International Monetary Fund, the US Federal Reserve, and the World Bank.

Carmen Reinhart
Carmen Reinhart is Professor of the International Financial System at Harvard University’s Kennedy School of Government and co-author of the best-selling book This Time is Different: Eight Centuries of Financial Folly, with Kenneth Rogoff.

Joseph E. Stiglitz
Robert J. Shiller, a 2013 Nobel laureate in economics, is Professor of Economics at Yale University and the co-creator of the Case-Shiller Index of US house prices. He is the author of Irrational Exuberance, the third edition of which was published in January 2015, and, most recently, Phishing for Phools: The Economics of Manipulation and Deception, co-authored with George Akerlof.

Wolfgang Schäuble has been Germany’s Federal Minister of Finance since 2009, helping to engineer the country’s remarkable post-crisis growth. He previously served as Minister of the Interior during the governments of Angela Merkel (2005-09) and Helmut Kohl (1989-91), and has been Chairman of Germany’s ruling Christian Democratic Union.

Ngaire Woods is Dean of the Blavatnik School of Government and Director of the Global Economic Governance Program at the University of Oxford.

Mohamed A. El-Erian, Chief Economic Adviser at Allianz, is the corporate parent of PIMCO where he served as CEO and co-Chief Investment Officer. He previously served as CEO of the Harvard Management Company and Deputy Director at the International Monetary Fund. He was named one of Foreign Policy’s Top 100 Global Thinkers in 2009, 2010, 2011, and 2012. He is the author, most recently, of The Only Game in Town: Central Banks, Instability, and Avoiding the Next Collapse.

George Soros is Chairman of Soros Fund Management and Chairman of the Open Society Foundations.

Lucrezia Reichlin, a former director of research at the European Central Bank, is Professor of Economics at the London Business School.

Mohamed A. El-Erian, a former chairman of Goldman Sachs Asset Management and former UK Treasury minister, is Honorary Professor of Economics at Manchester University and former Chairman of the Review on Antimicrobial Resistance.

Kaushik Basu, a former chief economist of the World Bank and chief economic adviser to the Government of India, is Professor of Economics at Cornell University. His most recent books are An Economist in the Real World and Beyond the Invisible Hand.

Sri Mulyani Indrawati is Finance Minister of Indonesia, as well as from 2005-2010. She was previously Managing Director of the World Bank Group and was Euromoney’s Finance Minister of the Year for 2006, Emerging Markets’s Asian Finance Minister of the Year for 2006, and in 2008 was ranked by Forbes as one of the most powerful women in the world.

Jim O’Neill, a former chief economist of the World Bank and chief economist adviser to the Government of India, is Professor of Economics at Cornell University. His most recent books are An Economist in the Real World and Beyond the Invisible Hand.

Justin Yifu Lin, former Chief Economist of the World Bank, is Director of the Center for New Structural Economics, Dean of the Institute of South South Cooperation and Development, and Honorary Dean at the National School of Development, Peking University.

Joschka Fischer was German Foreign Minister and Vice Chancellor from 1998-2005, a term marked by Germany’s strong support for NATO’s intervention in Kosovo in 1999, followed by its opposition to the war in Iraq. Fischer entered electoral politics after participating in the anti-establishment protests of the 1960s and 1970s, and played a key role in founding Germany’s Green Party, which he led for nearly two decades.

Minxin Pei is Professor of Government at Claremont McKenna College and a non-resident senior fellow at the German Marshall Fund of the United States. He is the author of China’s Crony Capitalism.

Nina L. Khrushcheva is a Russian-American playwright, screenwriter, and the author of Imagining Nabokov: Russia Between Art and Politics and The Lost Khrushchev: A Journey into the Gulag of the Russian Mind. She is Professor of International Affairs and Associate Dean for Academic Affairs at The New School and a senior fellow at the World Policy Institute.

Richard N. Haass, President of the Council on Foreign Relations, previously served as Director of Policy Planning for the US State Department (2001-2003), and was President George W. Bush’s special envoy to Northern Ireland and Coordinator for the Future of Afghanistan. He is the author of A World in Disarray: American Foreign Policy and the Crisis of the Old Order.

Joseph S. Nye, Jr., a former US assistant secretary of defense and chairman of the US National Intelligence Council, is University Professor at Harvard University. He is the author, most recently, of Is the American Century Over?

Jeffrey D. Sachs, Professor of Sustainable Development and Professor of Health Policy and Management at Columbia University, is Director of the UN Sustainable Development Solutions Network. His books include The End of Poverty, Common Wealth, The Age of Sustainable Development, and, most recently, Building the New American Economy.

Helen Clark, a former prime minister of New Zealand, is Administrator of the United Nations Development Programme.

Graça Machel is Founder of the Graça Machel Trust and a member of the Africa Progress Panel and The Elders.

Melinda Gates is Co-Chair of the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation.

Donald P. Kaberuka is a former president of the African Development Bank.

Anne-Marie Slaughter, a former director of policy planning in the US State Department (2009-2011), is President and CEO of the think tank New America, Professor Emerita of Politics and International Affairs at Princeton University, and the author of Unfinished Business: Women Men Work Family.

Jeffrey D. Sachs, Professor of Sustainable Development and Professor of Health Policy and Management at Columbia University, is Director of the UN Sustainable Development Solutions Network. His books include The End of Poverty, Common Wealth, The Age of Sustainable Development, and, most recently, Building the New American Economy.

Richard N. Haass, President of the Council on Foreign Relations, previously served as Director of Policy Planning for the US State Department (2001-2003), and was President George W. Bush’s special envoy to Northern Ireland and Coordinator for the Future of Afghanistan. He is the author of A World in Disarray: American Foreign Policy and the Crisis of the Old Order.

Minxin Pei is Professor of Government at Claremont McKenna College and a non-resident senior fellow at the German Marshall Fund of the United States. He is the author of China’s Crony Capitalism.

Nina L. Khrushcheva is a Russian-American playwright, screenwriter, and the author of Imagining Nabokov: Russia Between Art and Politics and The Lost Khrushchev: A Journey into the Gulag of the Russian Mind. She is Professor of International Affairs and Associate Dean for Academic Affairs at The New School and a senior fellow at the World Policy Institute.

Joschka Fischer was German Foreign Minister and Vice Chancellor from 1998-2005, a term marked by Germany’s strong support for NATO’s intervention in Kosovo in 1999, followed by its opposition to the war in Iraq. Fischer entered electoral politics after participating in the anti-establishment protests of the 1960s and 1970s, and played a key role in founding Germany’s Green Party, which he led for nearly two decades.

Anne-Marie Slaughter, a former director of policy planning in the US State Department (2009-2011), is President and CEO of the think tank New America, Professor Emerita of Politics and International Affairs at Princeton University, and the author of Unfinished Business: Women Men Work Family.

Jeffrey D. Sachs, Professor of Sustainable Development and Professor of Health Policy and Management at Columbia University, is Director of the UN Sustainable Development Solutions Network. His books include The End of Poverty, Common Wealth, The Age of Sustainable Development, and, most recently, Building the New American Economy.

Richard N. Haass, President of the Council on Foreign Relations, previously served as Director of Policy Planning for the US State Department (2001-2003), and was President George W. Bush’s special envoy to Northern Ireland and Coordinator for the Future of Afghanistan. He is the author of A World in Disarray: American Foreign Policy and the Crisis of the Old Order.

Minxin Pei is Professor of Government at Claremont McKenna College and a non-resident senior fellow at the German Marshall Fund of the United States. He is the author of China’s Crony Capitalism.

Nina L. Khrushcheva is a Russian-American playwright, screenwriter, and the author of Imagining Nabokov: Russia Between Art and Politics and The Lost Khrushchev: A Journey into the Gulag of the Russian Mind. She is Professor of International Affairs and Associate Dean for Academic Affairs at The New School and a senior fellow at the World Policy Institute.

Joschka Fischer was German Foreign Minister and Vice Chancellor from 1998-2005, a term marked by Germany’s strong support for NATO’s intervention in Kosovo in 1999, followed by its opposition to the war in Iraq. Fischer entered electoral politics after participating in the anti-establishment protests of the 1960s and 1970s, and played a key role in founding Germany’s Green Party, which he led for nearly two decades.

Jeffrey D. Sachs, Professor of Sustainable Development and Professor of Health Policy and Management at Columbia University, is Director of the UN Sustainable Development Solutions Network. His books include The End of Poverty, Common Wealth, The Age of Sustainable Development, and, most recently, Building the New American Economy.

Richard N. Haass, President of the Council on Foreign Relations, previously served as Director of Policy Planning for the US State Department (2001-2003), and was President George W. Bush’s special envoy to Northern Ireland and Coordinator for the Future of Afghanistan. He is the author of A World in Disarray: American Foreign Policy and the Crisis of the Old Order.

Minxin Pei is Professor of Government at Claremont McKenna College and a non-resident senior fellow at the German Marshall Fund of the United States. He is the author of China’s Crony Capitalism.

Nina L. Khrushcheva is a Russian-American playwright, screenwriter, and the author of Imagining Nabokov: Russia Between Art and Politics and The Lost Khrushchev: A Journey into the Gulag of the Russian Mind. She is Professor of International Affairs and Associate Dean for Academic Affairs at The New School and a senior fellow at the World Policy Institute.

Joschka Fischer was German Foreign Minister and Vice Chancellor from 1998-2005, a term marked by Germany’s strong support for NATO’s intervention in Kosovo in 1999, followed by its opposition to the war in Iraq. Fischer entered electoral politics after participating in the anti-establishment protests of the 1960s and 1970s, and played a key role in founding Germany’s Green Party, which he led for nearly two decades.
Ian Buruma is Professor of Democracy, Human Rights, and Journalism at Bard College. He is the author of numerous books, including Murder in Amsterdam: The Death of Theo Van Gogh and the Limits of Tolerance and Year Zero: A History of 1945.

Bernard-Henri Lévy is one of the founders of the “Nouveaux Philosophes” (New Philosophers) movement. His books include Left in Dark Times: A Stand Against the New Barbarism, American Vertigo: Traveling America in the Footsteps of Tocqueville, and most recently, The Genius of Judaism.

Peter Singer is Professor of Bioethics at Princeton University and Laureate Professor at the University of Melbourne. His books include Animal Liberation, Practical Ethics, The Ethics of What We Eat (with Jim Mason), Rethinking Life and Death, The Point of View of the Universe, co-authored with Katarzyna de Lazari-Radek, The Most Good You Can Do, Famine, Affluence, and Morality, and most recently, One World: Now and Ethics in the Real World. In 2013, he was named the world’s third “most influential contemporary thinker” by the Gottlieb Duttweiler Institute.

Francis Fukuyama is a senior fellow at Stanford University and Director of the Center on Democracy, Development and the Rule of Law. His most recent book is Political Order and Political Decay.

Lucy P. Marcus, founder and CEO of Marcus Venture Consulting, Ltd., is Professor of Leadership and Governance at IE Business School and a non-executive board director of Atlantia SpA.

Bill Gates, Founder and Technology Adviser of the Microsoft Corporation, is Co-Chair of the Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation.

REGIONAL FOCUSES
Africa, Asia, China, Europe, Latin America, Middle East and Russia.

TOPICAL FOCUSES

For a full list of Project Syndicate authors and series please see page 16.
Project Syndicate provides the world’s most respected publications the opportunity to feature leading global voices on a wide range of topics, raising the editorial bar that they present to their readers. By working with Project Syndicate your readers can truly glean the insights necessary to truly understand the key issues shaping our world.

Access

Project Syndicate content can be accessed by publishers in a variety of ways, dependent on your needs:
- Email delivery
- Editors Intranet (EdNet) tool
- Directly integrated with publishers’ content management systems

Project Syndicate publishers will also benefit from access to high-resolution author photo downloads, as well as weekly “Forthcoming Commentaries” advisories for ease of editorial planning.

Attribution

Publishers may use their own in-house style for attribution of Project Syndicate content, provided they follow two simple guidelines:
- All uses of Project Syndicate articles must include Project Syndicate’s copyright and the author bylines provided.
- All digital publications of Project Syndicate articles must hyperlink to the Project Syndicate website and implement the Project Syndicate licensing code.

Contact

Contact Project Syndicate to learn more about enhancing your editorial offerings.
commentary@project-syndicate.org
project-syndicate.org

Our Syndication Service

Choose Authors and Topics

With more than 100 original commentaries produced each month, Project Syndicate can create custom commentary feeds for your publication which will greatly enhance the variety, scope, and expertise presented to your readers.

Become a Partner

Join the network of nearly 500 global publishers who rely on Project Syndicate to enhance their editorial offerings.

Enrich Your Readers’ Experience

Only Project Syndicate can provide the range of perspectives necessary to truly bring your readers the perspectives they need to understand the fast-changing world around them.

500 GLOBAL PUBLISHERS

MULTIPLE FORMATS & MEDIA
Commentary Series

Weekly Series

THE NEW GLOBAL ECONOMY
Indonesian Minister of Finance Sri Mulyani Indrawati and German Minister of Finance Wolfgang Schaüble, Nobel laureates Angus Deaton and Edmund S. Phelps, philanthropist Bill Gates, Google Chairman Eric Schmidt, and financier George Soros.

SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT NOW
Potsdam Institute’s Stefan Rahmstorf, Stockholm University’s Johan Rockström, the London School of Economics and Political Science’s Lord Nicholas Stern, and European Climate Foundation CEO Laurence Tubiana.

VISIONARY VOICES

THE WORLD IN WORDS
The Word in Words offer weekly commentaries on the key issues of the day by political leaders such as Shinzo Abe, Tony Blair, Gordon Brown, Christine Lagarde, Signe Krogstrup, Hassan Rouhani, and Donald Tusk, strategists such as Sergei Karaganov, Yan Xuetong, and Frederica Mogherini, and thinkers such as Francis Fukuyama, Bernard-Henri Levy, and Justin Yifu Lin.

Monthly Series

INTERNATIONAL ECONOMICS AND FINANCE
1. Kaushik Basu
2. Howard Davies and Robert J. Shiller
3. J. Bradford DeLong
4. Barry Eichengreen
5. Mohamed A. El-Erian
6. European Economists (multi-author series)
7. Martin Feldstein
8. Jeffrey Frankel
9. Daniel Gross
10. Harold James
11. Simon Johnson
12. Anatole Kaletsky
13. Jim O’Neill
14. Raghuram Rajan
15. Stephen S. Roach
16. Kenneth Rogoff
17. Nouriel Roubini
18. Andrew Sheng
19. Hans-Werner Sinn and Michael Boskin
20. Robert Skidelsky
21. Joseph E. Stiglitz
22. Adair Turner
23. Laura Tyson
24. Yanis Varoufakis

POLITICS AND GLOBAL AFFAIRS
1. Shlomo Ben-Ami
2. Carl Bildt
3. Brahman Chellaney
4. Josscha Fischer
5. Richard N. Haass
6. Christopher R. Hill
7. Nina L. Khrushcheva
8. Mark Leonard
9. Dominique Moïsi
10. Joseph S. Nye
11. Ana Palacio
12. Chris Patten
13. Minxin Pei
14. Slawomir Sierakowski
15. Anne-Marie Slaughter and Ngaire Woods
16. Javier Solana
17. Shashi Tharoor
18. Guy Verhofstadt

GROWTH AND DEVELOPMENT
1. Education (multi-author series)
2. Kemal Derviş
3. Innovation (multi-author series)
4. The Frontiers of Growth (multi-author series)
5. Koichi Hamada and Lee Jong Wha
6. Ricardo Hausmann
7. Carmen Reinhart
8. Dani Rodrik
9. Jeffrey D. Sachs
10. Michael Spence
11. Andréis Velasco
12. Yu Yongding and Zhang Jun

IDEAS AND CULTURE
1. Ian Buruma
2. Health and Medicine (multi-author series)
3. The Human Rights Revolution (multi-author series)
4. Bjørn Lomborg
5. Lucy P. Marcus
7. Peter Singer
8. Worldly Philosophers (multi-author series)

REGIONAL INSIGHTS
1. The Asian Century (multi-author series)
2. A Window on Russia (multi-author series)
3. China World (multi-author series)
4. Europe at Home and Abroad (multi-author series)
5. Into Africa (multi-author series)
7. Latin America: The New New World (multi-author series)
Project Syndicate distributes its commentaries in English and 13 translated languages: Arabic, Chinese, Czech, Dutch, French, German, Hindi, Indonesian, Italian, Kazakh, Portuguese, Russian, and Spanish.

We devote enormous resources to translating our commentaries into 13 languages. Providing these translations, often free of charge, enables editors worldwide to publish our commentaries simultaneously, thus encouraging debate on a global scale.

Many of our members also translate our commentaries into local languages—say, Bengali, Farsi, or Swahili. In 2017, our commentaries appeared in 61 languages in 156 countries.
More Than Just Commentaries

Project Syndicate produces a wide range of additional print and online editorial content for publishers, including:

- multimedia videos
- podcasts
- expert interviews
- book reviews
- long-form reads

which can be paired with Project Syndicate content feeds.

Discuss with us how to include these features.
Project Syndicate’s annual magazine supplement, The Year Ahead, brings together world-renowned thinkers and leaders to address the defining political, economic, scientific, and cultural developments of the previous 12 months, who suggest what to expect in the year ahead.

A combination of commentaries, exclusive interviews, and riveting photos, The Year Ahead makes sense of the leading issues, ideas, and challenges in the world and is available to Project Syndicate publishers each year in December as a full magazine licensing product or publication as a special supplement – dependent upon your publishing needs.

Discuss with Project Syndicate this exclusive publishing opportunity in your market.